It is the cottonseed for next year Di T E Brents has gone to I awton
Okit on business

A P hile who is now located at ginned separately and store it away You can't save too much of it There never is enough good cottonseed for planting. A great deal of this year s cotton erch birw from frosted seed scriped out of the seed houses at the stuff from which to select seed your clop is from that kind of seed get it somewhere else

But do it now Don't depend on the ginner to do it for you He will not do it. Why should he? You are more New York 11 60 15 points interested than he and if you'll not g. to the trouble of saving good seed

why should any one else do it for you

Real success in growing cotton in Oklahoma comes to those who select and develop acclimated seed farther north cotton is grown, the greate rhecomes the need for develop-ing types suited to the short season and the cooler nights of summer
